Thank you for buying my first coloring book! I hope to make many more.

An Invitation To Scribble

Maybe you've noticed there's no drawing on this page. That's because I'm a blank page.

A blank page in a coloring book. A book full of artwork, and I get to be the blank page.

Well, this is awkward :/

But I'm not meaningless. I have a purpose as the blank page! My purpose in life is for you to test your art materials on me, that way you don't ruin the other pages :D

For wet materials like alcohol based inks, I would recommend putting some paper or cardstock underneath the page you're coloring so it doesn't bleed through.

Also, the real blank page is on the next page because these words have taken up too much space on this page, rendering this page essentially pointless :D :D :D
